

Worker's injury claim form

For help completing this form or for more information contact:

- Your employer or the nominated Return to Work Coordinator at your workplace
- Your employer's WorkSafe Victoria (WorkSafe) Agent - to find out who the Agent is check the If you are injured poster or call the WorkSafe Advisory Service: freecall 1800 136 089
- WorkSafe Advisory Service - the WorkSafe call centre: freecall 1800 136 089
- Your union
- Union Assist - a free service set up and run by the Victorian Trades Hall Council: (03) 9639 6144

As the worker you need to:

- Answer all of the questions on this form. Carefully complete this form using a dark blue or black pen. The form may be returned to you if it is incomplete
- Sign the authority to release medical information and worker's declaration at the end of this form. The form cannot be accepted without your signature
- Keep a copy of all documents for your records
- Notify your employer as soon as possible that you've been injured at work, and complete the injury register at your workplace. You can also notify the Agent directly by sending them the "early notification" copy of this form
- Report the accident to the police if your injury was the result of a motor vehicle accident. Otherwise your claim may not be valid
- Give this form (when completed) to your employer as soon as possible after being injured. If you have difficulty giving this claim to your employer, or your employer refuses to take receipt of the claim form, you can send it directly to the Agent or WorkSafe if the Agent is not known
- See your medical practitioner to obtain a WorkSafe Certificate of Capacity (medical certificate) if you are unable to work and want to claim weekly payments, and give the original copy to your employer along with this form. It is a good idea to check that all of the injuries or illnesses that you are claiming for on this form are listed on the WorkSafe Certificate of Capacity
- Note that if your claim is accepted, WorkSafe can pay the reasonable costs of medical and like expenses. However, this may not mean payment of the full costs. In some cases there may be a gap between what the provider charges you and what WorkSafe can pay as reasonable costs. If you want to know the reasonable costs for a particular service, visit the WorkSafe website at worksafe.vic.gov.au.
- Read the statement on the back of this form that explains how your personal and health information will be collected and used and how your weekly payments will be calculated (if your claim is accepted).

Getting back to work

- Talk with your employer to plan your return to work
- Talk to your medical practitioner or healthcare provider about what parts of your work you could do and any limitations you have. You can also encourage your medical practitioner or healthcare provider to talk to your employer about your capacity for work and any suitable duties that may be available
- Talk to the Agent about what support is available to help you return to work and overcome your injury as quickly as possible

Your employer's responsibilities:

- To confirm to you in writing that you notified them of this claim (they can do this by giving you a copy of this form when signed and completed)
- If you are claiming weekly payments, they must send the completed form and any WorkSafe Certificates of Capacity (medical certificates) to the Agent as soon as possible, but no later than 10 days after receiving them from you - or they may be financially penalised
- To pay you weekly payments if your claim is accepted and you have an entitlement
- To work with you to plan your return to work (if required)
- To provide you with suitable employment when you have a capacity to work
- To provide you with pre-injury employment when you have recovered and no longer have an incapacity for work
- To appoint a return to work coordinator who is competent to support your return to work.

Please note that there are penalties for providing false or misleading information in relation to this claim.

The WorkSafe Agent will write to you and advise you if your claim is accepted.

A decision to accept or reject your claim will usually be made within 28 days from the Agent received date.

To find out more about making a claim, and what support is available to help you return to work, talk to the Agent, refer to the brochure Introducing WorkSafe, a guide for injured workers, or visit the WorkSafe website at worksafe.vic.gov.au.

Collection of personal and health information to manage your claim*

In processing your claim, the Victorian WorkCover Authority (WorkSafe) and any WorkSafe Agent acting for WorkSafe in relation to your claim may collect personal and health information about you. WorkSafe and its Agents are required by law to ensure that all people about whom they collect personal and health information are provided with the following information:

WorkSafe is a body corporate established under the Victorian workers compensation legislation. Agents are appointed by WorkSafe under that legislation to act on its behalf in managing workers' compensation policies and claims for compensation.

Personal and health information about you is collected on this form and may also be collected during the processing, assessing and management of your claim. It may be collected from your current, previous and future employers, other government agencies, credit reporting agencies, health service providers and other persons who can provide information relevant to the claim.

Personal and health information about you may also be collected by solicitors, private investigators, loss adjusters and other service providers acting on behalf of WorkSafe or your employer's Agent. Personal and health information collected about you is used for the purpose of processing, assessing and managing your claim and to verify any evidence you may submit in support of the claim. The information may also be used for one or more of the purposes listed in Victorian workers compensation legislation for the purposes of legal proceedings arising under that legislation, to assist with your rehabilitation and return to work and to assist WorkSafe and Agents to better manage claims generally.

For the purposes of processing, assessing and managing your claim, WorkSafe and your employer's Agent may disclose personal and health information about you to each other and to the following types of organisations:

- employees, contractors and agents of WorkSafe and Agents
- your employers
- solicitors, medical practitioners and other health service providers, private investigators, loss adjusters and other service providers acting on behalf of WorkSafe or the Agent in relation to the claim
- the Accident Compensation Conciliation Service and Medical Panels
- a court or tribunal in the course of criminal proceedings or any proceedings under any of the Acts which WorkSafe administers
- any other person, organisation or government agency authorised by you, or by law, to obtain the information.

Collection of this information may be required by Victorian workers compensation legislation. If you do not provide any part or all of this information, your claim may not be accepted or processed. You may request access to personal and health information about you collected by WorkSafe or your employer's Agent by contacting your employer's Agent.

Communicating with you

WorkSafe may use your email address or mobile telephone number for any purpose for which you provide it, including to send you personal and health information relating to your claim. Email and SMS are convenient and consistent methods of communication, but you should understand that they are not completely secure and there is a risk that they could be intercepted, read or modified by others or sent to an incorrect address. If you have any questions, or if you would like to update your contact details or change your preferences for how WorkSafe communicates with you, please contact us via the "Contact us" page on the WorkSafe website: worksafe.vic.gov.au.

WorkSafe's policies for managing personal and health information are set out in its Privacy Policy, which is available from your nearest WorkSafe office or at the WorkSafe website at worksafe.vic.gov.au. Information relating to your right to access your WorkSafe claim information is also available at the website.

(*If your injury employer is an approved self-insurer, references to 'WorkSafe' and 'Agent' should be read as if they were references to 'self-insurer' and 'approved agent of a self-insurer'.)

Calculating your entitlement to weekly payments

Weekly payments are calculated based on your pre-injury average weekly earnings (PIAWE), generally in the 52 weeks before your injury. If you have been with your employer for less than 52 weeks, your PIAWE will be your average weekly earnings in the period of actual employment.

What information your employer needs to provide about your earnings

To enable the WorkSafe Agent to calculate your PIAWE, your employer will need to provide details of the following payments made to you in the past 52 weeks of your employment, or if that was less than 52 weeks, in the period of your actual employment.

- Base rate of pay
- Overtime and shift allowances
- Piece rates, tally bonuses and commissions
- Non-pecuniary benefits including residential accommodation, use of a motor vehicle, payment of health insurance or payment of education fees
- Any salary sacrifice arrangements

Your employer will also need to tell the Agent if, in the 52 week period before the injury, your earnings increased due to a promotion, or if they decreased due to you voluntarily reducing your hours or changing the nature of your work with the employer.

If your earnings include any other items not listed above, please discuss this with your Agent.
